

So that you can fully enjoy Hokkaido, it is essential that you understand and obey Japanese traffic laws.

Regulatory signs

Make sure you come to a complete stop at stop signs and railway crossings.

Stop signs are in the shape of an inverted triangle. When you approach a stop sign at an intersection, please be aware that there might not be stop signs for traffic perpendicular to you. This means that such traffic may approach at high speeds. If your failure to stop at the intersection results in a crash, you'll be at fault. Please be sure to stop at stop signs.

Each country's stop sign

Caution!

A flashing red signal indicates "Stop".

Major accidents are increasing on one-way streets!

In downtown areas and in residential areas, there are many one-way streets. Be sure to check traffic signs to avoid accidents.

Traffic violations

Stiff penalties are imposed on those who drive under the influence of alcohol. You'll be subject to penalties if you use a cell-phone while driving, exceed the speed limit, or park illegally.

Types of fuel (gasoline)

Ultimate unleaded* (High octane)

Unleaded (Regular)

Diesel

*Depending on the gas station, "Ultimate unleaded" may be called "Plus unleaded," "Super unleaded," or "Premium unleaded."
